

FROM THE DESK OF

Santa Claus

Hello from the North Pole!

Christmas Time is finally here,
and so I've sent my elf as my eyes and ears.

This little elf will come and stay
all the way up until Christmas Day.
She'll let me know if you've been naughty or nice,
so make sure you always think twice.

Wake up and find her at morning light,
after she comes back from her north pole flight.
Each day she'll surprise you with something she's done,
and between now and Christmas you'll have lots of fun.

Lots of love,

Santa
