

FROM THE DESK OF

Santa Claus

Hello from the North Pole!

Christmas Time is finally here,
and so I've sent my elves as my eyes and ears.

These little elves will come and stay
all the way up until Christmas Day.

They'll let me know if you've been naughty or nice,
so make sure you always think twice.

Wake up and find them at morning light,
after they come back from their north pole flight.
Each day they'll surprise you with something they've done,
and between now and Christmas you'll have lots of fun.

Lots of love,

Santa
